

March 15, 2011

Dear International Green Industry Hall of Fame (IGIHOF),

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for nominating ClearSky Climate Solutions (ClearSky) for induction into the IGIHOF. It's a true honor to be a finalist among other world-class Green companies.

ClearSky has been working on delivering climate solutions to its clients for three years. We truly believe that individuals, community groups, and businesses can reduce and balance their greenhouse gas emissions. Our projects help support a stable climate, healthy communities, and natural ecosystems. We feel that it's also important to take a look in the mirror and examine our own contributions to climate change. It's a pleasure to be recognized by the IGIHOF not only for the services we offer our clients, but also for our efforts in "walking the walk".

Through our nomination process I have learned more about the IGIHOF and its efforts to recognize leaders and innovators that are propelling the Green movement forward. Your commitment to creating a climate-neutral conference is also a testament to your values. I love what the Green Hall of Fame is doing and it is my hope that your work will continue to encourage, teach, and honor the future of Green industry.

While I regret ClearSky will not be able to attend the inaugural induction ceremony, know that we are with you in solidarity and will be watching via the live web stream.

Finally, I would like to offer my congratulations to all of the finalists - it's a humbling experience to be amongst you.

To our shared future,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Keegan Eisenstadt". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large initial "K".

Keegan Eisenstadt, CEO
ClearSky Climate Solutions, LLC